New Covenant School Statement of Services

School Year 2019-2020

New Covenant School provides specific accommodations for students based on the needs of the identified exceptional needs student. Each student that is identified as an exceptional needs student has a medical diagnosis by a medical professional. A medical diagnosis may include but is not limited to High Functioning Autism, ADHD/ADD, Dyslexia, Specific Learning Disabilities, Processing Disorders, and Speech Delays. The student that is identified as an exceptional needs student may have a 504 in place. The 504 accommodations are identified, implemented, and monitored by the Learning and Behavioral Coordinator as needed. Accommodations include, but are not limited to, preferred seating, repeated directions, chunking assignments, and a copy of the teacher's notes. The accommodations are identified based on the needs of the student. We will honor a 504 or IEP from another institution as long as we are able to meet the student's needs.

A student that is identified as a possible exceptional needs student is first identified and observed by the classroom teacher. The teacher notifies the Learning and Behavioral Coordinator, at which time, further observations are completed. Based on the observations, the LBC may recommend further testing for the student and provide specific techniques that may assist the teacher in the classroom.

Please contact me with further questions.
